Pins Flexes Black-Type Ability

Pins flexes his black-type ability as a sire and damsire across the Tasman this weekend.

As a sire, he is represented by Rolling Pin in the Gr.3 ATC Missile Stakes (1200m), whilst later on in the day he stars as the damsire of the odds on Gr.3 Aurie's Star Hcp hot pot Golden Archer.

Said Com Back in Style

Mark's Tip of the Week last Friday, Said Com (O'Reilly), duly kicked off his 2012/13 campaign with victory at Canterbury last Saturday. First up since autumn - where his biggest claim to fame was a runner-up finish in the Gr.1 Randwick Guineas behind Mosheen, the WS graduate was understandingly sent out as favourite.

Those who took the short odds on him no doubt endured some nervous moments when the Chris Waller-trained galloper missed the kick and also gave the leaders a huge head start on straightening. Class prevailed however, with Said Com arriving just in time against the pattern to win over 1250 metres.

Waller has the Gr.1 Epsom Handicap as a target for the O'Reilly four-year-old, who he purchased from WS's 2010 Premier Sale consignment for $290,000.

Three Te Teko Winners for O'Reilly

Promising to bigger things ahead, Tuesday's Te Teko trials unearthed three well-related O'Reilly winners...

Mark's Mail

Very sad to hear of Herbie Dyke's passing this morning. He was a very prominent figure within the industry and will be very much missed.

On a different note, congratulations to Neville Morgan, Blazing Ben Perkins and champion Sydney trainer Chris Waller with Said Com's nice win last Saturday. Sounds like exciting times ahead.

Chris tells us there's another horse in the stable to keep a close eye out for this week, so I can't go past that for my tip...
